

EXHAUST FAN (Bathroom)

Each bathroom without a window is equipped with a fan in the ceiling. Since moisture is a major cause of structural damage in townhouses, never disconnect the fan in the bathroom.

It is controlled by the same switch as the overhead light. The vacuum force of these fans causes them to quickly become covered with dust and lint. They should be cleaned regularly to ensure that they operate efficiently and properly.